PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

This extraordinary waterfront home was originally built and designed in 1920 by the architect who designed the Chicago Tribune Building from the fee paid to him as the architect. It is set in the corner of the 1.03 acre lot so that the beauty of the waterfront setting is fully appreciated. The tennis court located near the street and the heated pool near the water, leave space for a large lawn and beach area. A large fireplace in the covered entry terrace to the home is an ideal protected entertaining area.

Located only 7 minutes from the center of Old Greenwich and equidistant to either the Old Greenwich or Stamford train stations commuting to either Greenwich, Stamford or New York City is easy with a bus route to the train only a few hundred yards away.
